SCDXC Repeater 145.48 MHz, Trans -600 KHz. DX Net: Thursdays, 7:30 PM

NEXT MEETING: FRESNO INTERNATIONAL DX CONVENTION, APRIL 19,20,21, 1985

APRIL MEETING

The April meeting will be the FRESNO INTERNATIONAL DX CONVENTION April 19-21 at the Center Plaza Holiday Inn, 2233 Ventura Av., Fresno, CA 209-268-1000. Featured this year will be both DX and contest forums, and the returning team from Clipperton. Of course, many visiting DXers will be attending. On the technical side, OH8OS and W6KPC will present their findings on computer-controlled beam arrays.

1985 MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL

If there is a RED CHECKMARK on your mailing label, the SCDXC records indicate you have not yet paid your 1985 membership dues. In order to continue as a SCDXC member and receive the Bulletin please send a check for $12.00 (put your call on the check) to the treasurer at the address below:

Esther Wolf, KB6HW
 15524 Marilla St.
 Sepulveda, CA 91343

THANKS TO HENRY RADIO WEST L.A.

The Club thanks Henry Radio, West L.A., and Frank Cuevas, W6AOA, and Skip Cuevas, N6HAO, for participation in the procurement of prizes for the March raffle program.

OPERATOR LICENSE EXAMINATIONS

Technician through extra class amateur radio operator examinations are conducted the first Saturday of each month at the Lockheed Employees Recreation Club Amateur Radio Club, 2814 Empire Avenue, Burbank, CA 91504, 818-842-1863. Pre-registration is preferred. A self-addressed stamped envelope brings an FCC Form 610 application and associated information. Novice tests are also scheduled at mutually satisfactory times.

MINUTES OF THE MARCH 14 MEETING By Chris Williams KG6AR Secretary

The meeting was opened by Marty Woll, N6VI, SCDXC President, at 8:05 PM with member introductions. Marty made a survey of members present as to the number who might be interested in a club computer mailbox in the future. Twenty-six of the members present were interested.

Tex Myers, N6AHV, gave his DX Report and presented interesting information on the ZC4. It is always a help to have this timely bit of information for those who need it.

Dan Magro, KV6I, gave a report on the repeater. It should be back up on the hill in a couple of more weeks. When it goes back up, Dan plans to take his spectrum analyzer up to see where some of the interference is coming from.

Irv Emig, W6GC, gave a report on the Los Angeles Area Council of Amateur Radio Clubs.

John Alexander, K6SVL, gave a report on the ARRL International Phone and CW DX Contests. He urged everyone to make sure that their logs were mailed into League Headquarters.

The program consisted of a very good presentation by Terry Dubson, W6MKB, on big antennas with slides of his own monsters. We thank Terry for the fine program.

The following were raffle prize winners: NC6H, KB6HW, KA6SKW, WA6POZ, and W6DQH.

ARRL SOUTHWESTERN CONVENTION

The ARRL Southwestern Division Convention will be held aboard the R.M.S. Queen Mary on August 9, 10, and 11, 1985 at Long Beach. Senator Barry Goldwater, K7UGA, will be the Keynote Speaker at the Banquet. Roy Neal, K6DUE, NBC Science Editor, will be the Master of Ceremonies. Early groups registering can be assured of a table in the main ballroom. Contact Dan Davitt, N6CGB, for registration forms.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing to express my views on the most controversial subject in DXing today - lists and nets.

Some other countries, most notably the USSR, refer to DXing as "radiosporting." It is an apt term since it implies competition. Indeed, the tabulation and publication of DXCC standings brings out the competitive nature in all of us; it's what keeps us chasing the rare ones. It is also this competition that has so widely polarized DXers on the subject of lists and DX nets.

Many times, those who speak out against lists are told, "if you don't like it, ignore it." If this were simply a style of operation that was disagreeable but harmless, it would be easy to ignore. That is not the case, however. It is harmful because it cheapens the DXCC award.

It has been said that the reason some of us are so anti-list is that we're on ego trips and resent the little guy getting through. NOT SO. Our hats are off to the little guy who gets through, as long as he does it himself. The upper ranks of the DXCC roster abound with those who got there using modest equipment and no lists. "Yes, but it was easier when those guys did it. The bands are more crowded today, and the competition is stiffer making the little guy's chances slimmer." Was DXing really easier for the modest station in the days on the hetrodynes? On CW, I'll bet the smaller station has an easier time today than he did years ago since there is such a higher percentage of stations on phone. In addition, it sure seems like there have been more DXpeditions over the past decade than there ever were 30 years ago.

Let's forget about all the bickering for a moment. Look at what the hobby of DXing is really all about and you can see the biggest reason of all for not working lists and nets. Supposedly, we are all doing this because it's fun and exciting. I'll admit there is some ego boosting that goes on, but its really the excitement that has us chasing the rare ones. Can anyone deny that there's more excitement in working a rare one on your own (especially if it takes a while) than in having someone else locate it for you and orchestrate the QSO? That's why the ones who suffer are not those who miss the rare one because they refuse to get on the list. The true losers are the list participants. They deprive themselves of the excitement of working it on their own. He who refuses the list knows what a great feeling it's going to be when he finds and works the rare one by himself. Clearly, those who operate lists are demonstrating that, to them, the almighty QSL is more important than the fun and excitement of the activity of DXing itself. Is there pride no bigger than that?

Our government allows us the privilege of amateur radio because, among other things, the skills we develop while operating can prove invaluable in times of emergency. DXing has been touted as one of the activities within our hobby that hones such skills. The list operator suffers in this respect also. Whether he's one of those on the list or the DX operator himself, he doesn't develop much more than the ability to hold up his hand when his name is called. I'm not sure I'd want him on the other end when my ship is sinking in the South Atlantic.

The very existence of DXCC establishes DXers as participants in radiosport. True sport provides the greatest amount of fun and excitement to the most people. True sport is the best way to improve skills. Working DX from a list or net is not true sport. If I stood in line at the Redondo Beach pier awaiting my turn to have a diver attach a large fish to my hook I would be ashamed of myself. If I had obtained a fishing award through such a tactic, it wouldn't be worth the paper it was printed on. Let's get back to the true spirit of DXing!

73 and DX,
Tom Hoyne, N6NI

MAST OVERLOADED?

Marty W0II, N6VI, has written a computer program which will do a complete stress work-up on a mast that has up to ten antennas stacked on it. Contact Marty if you are wondering whether you should put that big beam at the top or bottom of your stack, or if you want to add "just one more" to the Xmas tree.

ARRL PROMOTES INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL-HOST EXCHANGE

The ARRL has compiled a list of amateurs in the USA who are interested in exchanging vacations and/or making travel arrangements with amateurs in other countries. It has also commenced what it calls an "International Travel-Host Exchange" for the promotion of international good will and friendship.

ARRL members interested in meeting and possibly accommodating foreign amateurs are asked to write Naoki Akiyama, JH1VRQ/N1CIX, International Programs Manager, ARRL HQ, 225 Main St., Newington, CT 06111, giving their name, call sign, languages spoken, and whether or not they are able to accommodate visitors. Their names will be added to the list which will then be sent to participating radio societies overseas.

CAN YOU TOP THIS?

From DX NEWS SHEET ... Tom, GW3AHN, has checked his logs and notes he has worked 307 current countries in a recent six year period using only 25 watts input!!!

BAND COUNTRIES:

RSGB's DX NEWS SHEET says that DL7AA has all-time band totals of 314/10, 344/15, 360/20, 304/40, 239/80, and 96/160. If some of you will send in your numbers to the Bulletin Editor at the return address on the Bulletin we will be happy to publish them.
